SOCIETY OF THE Sons of the American Revolution.

ORIGIN OF THE SOCIETY.

The first State Society was organized in San Francisco, Cal., July 4, 1876, under the name of " Sons of Revolutionary Sires," which name was subsequently superseded by that now borne. Largely through the efforts of this Society independent Societies were formed in other states. The National Society was organized by delegates from the several State Societies meeting in New York City, April 30, 1889. This meeting was held in Fraunce's Tavern, in the " long room " in which Washington bade farewell to his officers at the close of the Revolution.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

The State Societies constitute the National Society. This Society has a Constitution and By-Laws, a Board of Officers, and a Legislative Body named the Congress, which is composed of delegates from each of the State Societies. The Congress has one regular meeting each year. A conclave of the whole Society meets triennially at such place as the National Board of Managers may determine.

The Constitution of the National Society prescribes the objects, terms of eligibility to membership, the badge and colors of the whole Society. While each State Society has absolute control of its own affairs, the Constitution of the National Society is the supreme law of the whole, and the constitution of each Society conforms thereto.

It is thus seen that the whole organization closely follows the model presented by the republic.

OBJECTS OF THE ORGANIZATION.

These are set forth in the Constitution of the National Society as follows :

"The objects of this Society shall be to perpetuate the memory of the men, who, by their services or sacrifices during the war of the American Revolution, achieved the independence of the American people; to unite and promote fellowship among their descendants; to inspire them and the community at large with a more profound reverence for the principles of the government founded by our forefathers; to encourage historical research in relation to the American Revolution ; to acquire and preserve the records of the individual services of the patriots of the war, as well as documents, relics and landmarks ; to mark the scenes of the Revolution by appropriate memorials ; to celebrate the anniversaries of the prominent events of the war ; to foster true patriotism ; to maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom ; and to carry out the purposes expressed in the preamble to the constitution of our country and the injunctions of Washington in his farewell address to the American people."

In no respect are these objects partisan, sectarian or commercial, but purely patriotic, social and American.

ELIGIBILITY TO MEMBERSHIP.

The National Constitution fixes the terms of eligibility thus :

" Any man shall be eligible to membership in this Society, who, being of the age of twenty-one years or over, and a citizen of good repute in the community, is the lineal descendant of an ancestor who was at all times unfailing in his loyalty to and rendered actual service in the cause of American Independence, either as an officer, soldier, seaman, marine, militiaman or minute man, in the armed forces of the Continental Congress or of any one of the several colonies or states ; or as a signer of the Declaration of Independence ; or as a member of a Committee of Safety or Correspondence ; or as a member of any Continental, Provincial or Colonial Congress or Legislature ; or as a Civil Officer, either of one of the colonies or states or of the national government ; or as a recognized patriot who performed actual service by overt acts of resistance to the authority of Great Britain."

Organized wholly for patriotic purposes, and presenting a broad platform upon which all may stand, the Society commends itself to all Americans, and has gained the earnest support of the foremost men of our country. North, south, east and west, men eminent in business, finance, law, literature, science and art are active members, enthusiastically laboring to advance the objects of the Society and to promote its prosperity. The Society is now organized in thirty or more states and embraces an aggregate membership of over four thousand members.

FORMATION OF THE OREGON AND WASHINGTON SOCIETY.

Mainly through the efforts of Colonel Thomas M. Anderson, U. S. A., this Society was organized June 6, 1891, by about twenty gentlemen of accepted eligibility meeting in Grand Army hall, Portland, adopting a Constitution and By-Laws and electing officers. Three annual meetings have been held, besides several special business meetings and the annual banquets.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

The name of this Society shall be the Oregon and Washington Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

ARTICLE II.

OBJECT.

The object of this Society is to perpetuate the memory of the men of the American Revolution; to honor the noble women of that period, from whom we descend; to revive the spirit of that time; to carry out the purposes expressed in the preamble of the constitution of our country and the injunctions of Washington's farewell address; to encourage historical research in our War of Independence; to collect relics and records of that time; to oppose, by moral means, the spread of anarchial ideas and lawlessness; to draw together in a firm and fraternal union the descendants of the patriots of the Revolution who are willing to cherish and maintain American freedom and see that our "Government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERSHIP.

Any male person is eligible for membership who is of the age of twenty-one years, and who is descended from an ancestor who, with unfailing loyalty, rendered material aid to the cause of the American Independence as a soldier or seaman, or as a civil officer in one of the several colonies or states, or as a recognized patriot; provided he shall be found worthy.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar. The last three offices may be filled by one member, if the Society so elects.

SEC. 2. The officers named in the preceding section, together with four other members, shall constitute a Board of Managers, and this Board shall have the power to fill vacancies that may occur among the officers of the Society or the members of the Board.

SEC. 3. The officers and managers and delegates to the National Society shall be elected by a vote of the majority of the members voting at the annual meetings of the Society. This vote may be personal, by proxy or by letter. The officers and managers shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE V.

SECTION II.

MEMBERS DROPPED FROM ROLL.

Flenniken, Henry.

There are many good reasons just now why patriots, and especially American patriots, should give voice to their patriotic sentiments and purposes. To those who are eligible and worthy we extend a cordial invitation to join with us. Any of our officers or members will cheerfully furnish all the assistance possible to gentlemen looking up the records of ancestral service.

Any one desiring to become a member should apply to the Secretary for application blanks. The application must be made in duplicate, sworn to, have the recommendation of two members, and then be filed with the Secretary or the Registrar. When accepted by our Board of Managers and approved by the Registrar-General of the National Society, the applicant will receive official notification of his election to membership.

Upon notification of election the membership fee, three dollars, and annual dues of three dollars should be paid to the Treasurer, Mr. Ralph W. Hoyt, at the Merchants' National Bank, Portland.

Members should bear in mind that the annual dues of three dollars are payable on the twenty-second of February, in advance for each year.

Certificates of Membership may be obtained upon application to the Secretary or Registrar, and the payment of one dollar.

Rosettes are obtained from the Registrar or Treasurer at twenty-five cents each.

The Badge of the Society is sterling silver covered with gold and costs nine dollars. This is the same in size and design as the one which cost twenty-five dollars, and has taken the place of the four styles formerly used. They are sold by Tiffany & Co., New York City, upon permit issued by the Registrar-General.

Members desiring to obtain the badge should apply to the Registrar or Secretary for the necessary permit.
